ABOARD U. S. S. LEXINGTON, IN MID-PACIFIC, July 10.—The last slim hope that the lost round-the-world fliers, Amelia Earhart and her navigator Captain Fred Noonan, may be rescued the ocean waste of the south Pacific rested today with the 300 crack navy airmen aboard this giant aircraft carrier.

The Lexington's 63 planes, dramatically transformed from deadly engines of war into instruments of mercy, were warmed up as the mother ship steamed close to the search area.

Airline officers reported to Capt. J. S. Dowell, commander of the Lexington now directing the greatest air and sea search in aviation history, that the air armada was ready to take off as soon as he gave the order which might come today, but more likely tomorrow after the Lexington has covered three-quarters of the 1500 miles between Honolulu and Howland.

May Launch Planes Soon.

Nearly 600 miles of the southward journey to Howland has been covered since the giant carrier cruised away from Lahaina Roads, near Honolulu, after refueling following the dash from the mainland. The 25-knot speed of the ship was not at forced draft because Capt. Dowell issued orders to conserve fuel for any possible emergency.

Racing ahead of the Lexington were three destroyers—the Drayton, Lamson and Cushing.

By Monday morning, the Lexington will reach the immediate vicinity of the search—between Howland and the Phoenix Islands. Long before Monday, however, the Lexington's long range bombers, torpedo and scour planes will spread a gigantic fan over 60,000 square miles of the south Pacific, particularly the Phoenix group and Carondelet reef to the southwest of the Phoenix islands.

If this vast area reveals no trace of the missing fliers, the search will be broadened to 200,000 square miles. If the widened area still gives no trace of Miss Earhart's $80,000 "flying laboratory", the last shred of

HAD BEEN ILL FOR SEVERAL MONTHS

After several months of illness during which she suffered considerably from rheumatic conditions, death came peacefully Friday night at eight o'clock to Mrs. Grace Marquis Greer, widow of Charles Greer, at her summer home on Chautauqua Lake, N. Y.

The prominent New Castle resident, an outstanding leader in club work and member of a pioneer western Pennsylvania family, was conscious to the last and talked quietly with her son, Millard, who was at her bedside.

Although her health had been poor for some time, she had been anxious to go to Chautauqua, where she had spent so many happy summers, and a short time ago she made the trip. Upon her arrival her condition took a turn for the worse and for the past several days had been critical.

In Many Activities

Mrs. Greer, who resided at 414 North Jefferson street, was the organizer of the Daughters of American Colonists and Nev. Castle Perry chapter of the national society United States Daughters of 1812.

She was a charter member of the Reading Circle and the Music club; (Continued on Page Two)

After testing the blood of around fifty donors, hospital doctors at the Jameson Memorial selected John Ross, of 405 East Lutton street, as the one whose blood was of the same type as that of David N. Garvin, seriously ill in the hospital.

The condition of Mr. Garvin today was still regarded as critical but it is hoped that the transfusion will result in improvement of his condition.

Parolee

SURPRISED BY POLICE
IN ROBBERY

(BULLETIN)

PITTSBURGH, July 10.—A single burst of gunfire from the calm hands of a policeman early today snuffed out the life of Bert Brown, 21, swaggering parolee who led the remnants of the notorious Brown gang on the north side, held responsible for 30 gasoline station hold-ups in the past few weeks.

The blast, fired from a 12-gauge shotgun by Patrolman George Puff, struck Brown full in the head, spun him around and dropped him dead as he came at Puff and his scout car buddy, Bartholomew Flaherty, with a pointed gun.

Trapped in Service Station

Brown and his accomplice, Clyde Rowlands, 22, were trapped in a service station when surprised by Puff and Flaherty during a hold-up. Brown wounded Flaherty in the palm of the hand, disarming him momentarily. Rowlands surrendered without a struggle.

Puff and Flaherty are known as the "Damon and Pythias" of Pittsburgh's scout car patrolmen. The 12-gauge gun Puff used had been found, strangely enough, in one of the stolen cars abandoned by the Brown gang, and he carried it as a "lucky omen".

"I've been waiting to get you for a long time," Brown snarled at Puff as the two policemen closed in.

The first shot struck Flaherty. Puff, seeing his companion disabled, did not hesitate. He took aim, pulled the trigger and killed Brown, hoping, he said, to have broken up the gang "for keeps".

Four other members of the gang are in prison awaiting prosecution.

After a two-weeks stay at Camp Clemente, Amherst, Pa., Troop F, returned this morning every man tanned by wind and sun, with all the laurels which could be handed out, resting lightly on their strong shoulders.

Capt. George F. Seyffert was more than pleased with the performance of the men while in camp. Not only did they capture practically every honor which was handed out, but the men showed a willing spirit of cooperation at all times which enabled them to forge to the front when any occasion demanded it.

As a matter of fact, the Troop was just so good this year that Major Alberts, the Squadron Commander finally had to ask the Troop to ease up and give the other troops in the squadron a chance to make a showing.

The Troop earned the reputation of being the "hardest-boiled" outfit in camp, and were the envy of every other troop.

Announcement that the plants would open "in a few days" was made by H. O. Brown, president of the Association of Steel Employees, which is opposed to the committee for industrial organization. Brown said the announcement was made with the authority of Youngstown officials.

End Of First Week's De

Substitute Is Near

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Strapped in a parliamentary strait jacket that served only to widen the split within its Democratic ranks, the Senate today neared the end of the first week's debate on the administration supreme court bill, with the opposition claiming victory.

The straight jacket was imposed by administration leaders, through strict enforcement of all rules, in an effort to stem off a filibuster.

Opposition leaders laughed at the strait jacket through fear of a filibuster. There is no need of a filibuster to defeat this bill.

The Senate will reject it as soon as the un-American principles underlying it are fully explained to the country. This is a new bill, suddenly sprung on the people and debate is unlikely.

"The American people need not be deceived by claims of the proponents. They will recall the claim of 60 votes for the original administration bill for packing the court, which is now abandoned in the face of overwhelming popular condemnation. The same fate will overtake this substitute."

The substitute would authorize the appointment of one new justice every year for justices over 75 years of age. The original bill would have authorized appointment of as many justices, up to a court of 15, as there were 70-year-old justices on the bench.

Leaders Satisfied.

Leaders of both sides declared themselves satisfied with the first week's developments in debate.

Administration leaders were satisfied.

Neutralite Control On Franco-Spanish Border Ends Tuesday

(International News Service)

PARIS, July 10—Neutralite control along the Franco-Spanish border in the Pyrenees will end Tuesday, a communiqué issued at the Quai D'Orsay announced today.

This step, resulting from French annoyance over the non-intervention committee in London that the government is suspending control of the frontier Tuesday, creating a situation similar to that existing on the Portuguese border.

"This does not affect the government's decree issued in August forbidding export of arms and munitions to Spain."

The official announcement stated the neutrality officials now stationed along the border will remain, but will not exercise control.

The communiqué stated:

"Ambassador Charles Corbin will inform the non-intervention committee in London that the government is suspending control of the frontier Tuesday, creating a situation similar to that existing on the Portuguese border."

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., July 10—John Montague, the mystery man who has been called "the greatest golfer in the world" was under arrest here today charged with participating in a New York roadhouse robbery.

His opposition colleagues also congratulated Senator Wheeler (D) of Montana on his speech opening attack on the bill. Wheeler condemned the measure as the "tool" of those seeking dictatorship in America and warned the same steps were taken to overcome an independent judiciary in Germany and Italy before Hitler and Mussolini became dictators.

Frequent parliamentary clashes marked the debate, with each side using the rules to keep the other from gaining any advantage. This display of personalities and technicalities was unprecedented in appearing so early in a debate and served only to reveal the deep-rooted sentiment and personal tenesness underlying the contest.

Members of the Amerita club met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Anthony Villani, on Long avenue.

Business, cards and conversation claimed attention with favors in the games awarded to Mrs. Andrew Nocera and Mrs. Nick Albobell.

Next month an election of officers will take place when the group meets at the home of Louise Butler at Mt. Jackson.

C. U. C. Club

When it rained Friday evening, the C. U. C. club decided to have their scheduled meeting in the home of Mrs. Ella Fulkerson on Walnut street, instead of going to the park as planned.

Two tables of 500 were in play, with awards going to Mrs. Flora Fulkerson and Mrs. Clara Phillips. There were two visitors.

Monday evening, the group will have a picnic supper at Cascade Park.

Reynolds Reunion

The family of the late John G. Reynolds held their annual reunion at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Heckathorn on the New Wilmington and Mercer road Monday, July 5.

One hundred and thirty-two guests enjoyed a delicious picnic dinner at noon, following which the afternoon was featured with recreations and games.

At the business session, all old officers were re-elected, and it was decided to hold the next gathering at the home of David A. Reynolds at New Wilmington.

The summer cottage of Mrs. W. A. Hoyland, located at New Wilmington, was the scene of delightfully informal event, Friday evening when she entertained members of the Hi-Lo Bridge club at their bi-weekly event.

Tables of contract claimed attention, the prizes falling to Miss Frances Gibson, and Mrs. J. J. Carson. Mrs. Milton Reiber and Mrs. J. E. Melvin received the traveling awards.

A dainty repast was served at the small tables, which were re-arranged and appointed in keeping with the season. Mrs. Hoyland was aided by Mrs. H. A. Barber with the menu. On Friday, July 23, Mrs. J. E. Melvin, of Summer avenue will entertain at her residence.

RECEPTION AT CHURCH OF INTEREST HERE

On Thursday evening, the congregation of Mt. Pleasant United Presbyterian church of Hickory, held a reception in honor of their new minister and wife, the Rev. and Mrs. John Ray Louden.

The church and parlor were decorated with baskets and tall standards of garden flowers, and ferns. More than two hundred were present to share in the festivities, and at a suitable hour, refreshments were served by the ladies organization of the church.

A program was given, under the direction of William Denny, and composed of musical numbers and impromptu talks by several. Those heard from were A. Cowden, Dr. Little of the Chartiers Presbyterian and the Rev. C. Thomas, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Hickory.

Mrs. Louden is the former Josephine Abbott of New Castle, their marriage having been a recent event.

Attending from New Castle, were: Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Abbott, Miss Dorothy Abbott, Wilbur Abbott, all of West Washington street extension and Miss Edwina Raub of Northview avenue.

MORNING WEDDING IN THIRD CHURCH

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Faichney, 108 South Ray street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Dora Mae, to Harold A. Kelty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kelty, of this City.

The ceremony took place at seven o'clock this morning in the study of the Third United Presbyterian church, with Rev. C. T. R. Yeates officiating with the single ring service.

The bride wore a blue and white lace dress, with white accompaniments, and a shoulder bouquet of roses. She was attended by Miss Jane Davison who wore a rose crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage. Gayle Pitszer was best man.

After a short wedding trip, the young couple will be at home to friends at the home of the bride's parents on Ray street. Both are graduates of the New Castle high school.

RECEPTION HONORS S. S. SUPERINTENDENT

A reception was held in the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church on Friday evening honoring the superintendent of the Sunday school and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Walker, nee Helen Lapsh.

A musical program was enjoyed with the following taking part:

Greetings and remarks were given by Rev. D. C. Schenley. Piano solo by Betty Alexander, followed by a vocal solo by Ruth Glenn, accompanied by Ruth Schenley. Rev. Harold Guy gave a violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Brown.

An entertaining skit entitled "The Grand Upright", was given by Mrs. Steve Hutmacher and Charles H. Clark.

A group of piano numbers was played by Kenneth Farver. A lovely solo was presented from the Sunday school by the assistant superintendent, Arthur Brown.

During the social time group singing was enjoyed and was led by Rev. Harold Guy. Several vocal numbers were given by Mrs. C. H. Clark and Kenneth Farver.

The rooms of the church were decorated with baskets of garden flowers and the table from which refreshments were served was centered with a crystal dish of garden flowers and crystal candle holders with pink tapers.

The committee in charge included Mrs. H. R. Unangst, Mrs. Clarence Allen, Mrs. Arthur Brown and Mrs. H. E. Alexander.

CEGLAREK-DOBULEK NUPTIALS TODAY

Before the altar of the church of St. Philip and James this morning at 8:30, the wedding of Sophia Eugenie Dobulek and Alphonse J. Ceglarak took place with Rev. Fr. V. V. Stanczewski, pastor of the church officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clemence Lawrence Dobulek of 4 Northview avenue, and the groom is the son of Peter Ceglarak of Bay City, Mich.

Preceded by her bridal party the bride entered the church on the arm of her father. She was garbed in a Chapel model gown, designed along princess lines, with Alencon lace collar. Her veil was of bridal silk illusion with a tiara of satin piping fastened with clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and bouvardia.

Miss Stephanie Ceglarak of Bay City, Mich., a sister of the groom acted as maid of honor. She wore a blue lace gown with pink accessories and an arm bouquet of Briarcliff roses. The junior bridesmaid was Miss Joan Barbara Dobulek a sister of the bride. She wore a gown of pink organza with blue accessories and carried an arm bouquet of Joanna Hill roses. The best man was John Dobulek, a brother of the bride, of Lansing, Mich.

Mrs. Ceglarak is a graduate of New Castle High school, Slippery Rock State Teachers College and Wayne University. For the past three years she has been an educator in the service of the United States government, having charge of a school for Indians on the reservation near Ardmore, Oklahoma. The groom is a graduate of the Michigan School of Mines and Technology at Houghton, Michigan. He is a chemist in the employ of the United States Rubber Company in Detroit, Mich.

During the wedding ceremony at the church a wedding breakfast took place in the home of the bride's parents on Northview avenue. This afternoon and this evening a reception takes place with an evening dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Ceglarak will leave Sunday for Niagara Falls and Canadian points for their honeymoon after which they will reside in Detroit.

Among the out of town guests present today were Peter Ceglarak, father of the groom, Peter Ceglarak, Jr., brother of the groom, both of Bay City, Mich., Miss Wanda Ceglarak sister of the groom, of New York City; Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Winston and son John of Saginaw, Michigan; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McNabb and Miss Agnes Saloigetz of Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Waskiewicz of Ann Arbor, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dubis of Pittsburgh.

LUNCHEON AFFAIR AT WITHER'S HOME

Twenty members of the Mother's Circle of the First M. E. church enjoyed a porch party and luncheon Friday at one o'clock at the lovely home of Mrs. Ernest Withers, "The Elms" on the Harlanburg road.

Quantities of shasta daisies were used in providing a more than unusually attractive setting. Four guests were present, in addition to the circle, Miss Mary Owens, of Wheatland, Pa., a sister of the hostess, Miss Anderson, deaconess of Almira Home, Eloise Payne and Maxine Templeton. The social committee formed the committee in charge.

The bride wore a blue and white lace dress, with white accompaniments, and a shoulder bouquet of roses. She was attended by Miss Jane Davison who wore a rose crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage. Gayle Pitszer was best man.

After a short wedding trip, the young couple will be at home to friends at the home of the bride's parents on Ray street. Both are graduates of the New Castle high school.

WEDDING DATE IS REVEALED AT PARTY

At a cleverly appointed party Friday evening Miss Edna Roberts entertained a group of girls in her Ray street home to announce the date when Miss Ruth Buchanan and Joseph Craig will be married.

The early evening was enjoyed with card playing, music and chat. At the end of play the prize went to Miss Jean Loveridge. Later the guests were invited to the dining room and upon finding their places at the table little Sally Lou, sister of the hostess, appeared and gave each guest a rose bud in which was found the names, "Ruth and Joe" and date, "August."

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess' mother, Mrs. Russell Roberts, and sister, Miss Carrie Roberts.

To climax the evening the bride-to-be was showered with beautiful gifts to use in her new home.

Miss Buchanan is the daughter of Mrs. Kate Buchanan, Lathrop street, and Mr. Craig is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Craig, of Mt. Jackson. Both mothers attended the party last evening as special guests.

MANY GUESTS AT LITTLE FLOWER CLUB

Gathering Friday evening, in the home of Mrs. P. Dougherty, on Grandview avenue, the Little Flower club and several guests had a delightful time.

Cards and bingo at nine tables, formed the entertainment, and a nice lunch. Favors were given to Mrs. L. P. Pagley and Mrs. J. P. Devitt. They were special guests, together with Misses Mary Capitola, Katherine Rodgers, Jean Hart, Mrs. P. Capitola, Mrs. Robert Rodgers, Mrs. F. N. Hamm, Mrs. Ed. Coyne and Mrs. Ed. Smith and Mary Cuning.

Aides in serving were Mrs. M. Devlin and Miss Annette Holliday. The next meeting is dated for July 23, at the home of Mrs. A. G. Skundor, Lincoln avenue, and the groom is the son of Peter Ceglarak of Bay City, Mich.

Preceded by her bridal party the bride entered the church on the arm of her father. She was garbed in a Chapel model gown, designed along princess lines, with Alencon lace collar. Her veil was of bridal silk illusion with a tiara of satin piping fastened with clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of gardenias and bouvardia.

"My First Birthday Party" will be added in the scrap book of little Carol Ann Boalick, who proved a charming hostess Thursday, when her mother, Mrs. Kenneth Boalick of 612 Lutton street, invited guests in to celebrate her first birthday party.

The guest list composed of lots of the same, who were amused with toys, seated about on the front porch. The youngsters with their mothers made a full day of it, and Carol Ann was remembered with a collection of dainty gifts in behalf of the happy occasion.

A tasty baby menu was served by Mrs. Boalick aided by Mrs. David Vago, at the close of the informal program. A large birthday cake, glowing with one candle, formed the attractive centerpiece. Novelty favors were given each of the young stars.

NEWCASTLE

SAPPING THE TARIFF WALL

NOBODY will seriously question the political regularity of Senator Ashurst, of Arizona. His recent support of the President and his administration in the fight over the Supreme Court bill is still fresh in the memory of political students. It is interesting therefore to note the views of Senator Ashurst on the subject of the tariff as expressed recently in the Senate. Mr. Ashurst said:

"Mr. President, one-third of a good lifetime has elapsed since I was inducted into the Senate. When I first came here I was a patriotic, bifurcated volcano, going over the United States speaking for low tariffs and free trade. I made a speech in 1913 for free trade and low tariffs and the Democratic National Committee circulated 200,000 copies of that speech."

"Later, having visited the various countries of Europe, having seen the equal, having seen the poverty, misery and distress in those countries operating under low tariffs and under free trade, and after making a careful investigation which lasted some years, with the assistance of men able in research, I abandoned my erroneous views regarding tariffs."

"Call it inconsistency if you choose. I saw the error of my ways, and reverted to the old Jeffersonian, Jacksonian, Madisonian democratic policy of protective tariffs for American industries. Since that time, in order after a fashion to secure union for the sins committed as a free trader and low-tariff man, I have sought every sensible opportunity to try to spread the doctrine of high protective tariffs for our country. I believe that our country, our workingmen and our industries will not have prosperity without high tariffs."

One would gather from the above that Senator Ashurst unquestionably supports the protective tariff. There has been no effort by the administration to repeal the Republican tariff, passed in President Hoover's administration, although it was denounced roundly on the stump in the campaign of 1932. But friends of protection declare that our tariff is being repealed by indirection. They aver that this process is being supervised by that arch free trader, Secretary of State Cordell Hull. They point to the tariff agreements which have been made with foreign countries letting in the products of alien workers, agreements which are much more sweeping than they appear on the surface because of our many most favored nation agreements. They prove their point by citing the figures of the Department of Commerce which show that our imports have gained so rapidly on our exports that the balance of international trade is now against us.

In his enthusiasm for protection one may wonder whether or not Senator Ashurst will not step into the breach and point out the dangers of this international tariff bargaining? If he does not do so he is very likely to see the benefits of protection go glimmering before the moonshine of alleged benefits from the world markets which we are going to get—in the sweet by and by.

WORTHY DEFENDER OF AMERICA'S CUP

Selection of Ranger, Harold S. Vanderbilt's graceful new sloop, to defend the America's Cup against T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavour II was not unexpected in view of the big ship's performance in the trials. Opposing the Yankee and the defender of three years ago, Rainbow, Mr. Vanderbilt's pride and joy won eight races and lost none. On this show of superiority she is clearly entitled to defend the old silver mug that was brought here eighty-six years ago by the schooner yacht America.

Ranger's selection for the Cup races July 31 is a personal triumph for Vanderbilt, who is not only the skipper but the owner of the defender. Twice before has this sportsman skippered an American sloop to victory in the Cup finals, against the last of Lipton's Shamrocks and the first of Sopwith's Endeavours. This time he will have under him the biggest Class J sloop ever built and the fastest built in this country.

The British challenger is set to give Ranger a real battle, according to reports, but with an unbeaten ship and a veteran skipper to defend it, the Cup shouldn't have to make a return journey across the Atlantic.

IT'S WATERMELON TIME

This is the season when sticklers for table etiquette are in partial eclipse; the season when melon pips fly, and the sound of corn on the cob will soon be heard in the land. This is the season when many consider it permissible, nay even necessary, to relax somewhat from a strict observance of the formal codes of the knife and fork.

So far, corn on the cob has won its own way. But, at table one is still expected to overcome the watermelon with a fork. As well expect the hardened eater of green corn to face his seasonal feast in the shape of kernels divorced from the cob as lay down the rule of fork to the genuine devotee of watermelon. After all, the juice is the main part of a watermelon, and who would eat soup with a fork?

If watermelon is to be eaten at the table, then please, Mrs. Post, let us have knife, fork and spoon, any one of all three, as fancy may dictate. A really man-size slice of watermelon is a bit unmanageable on any ordinary sort of a plate, however, and hence it is the ordered plan of some to eat it beside the kitchen sink. But, there is the task of cleaning up the seeds. And there is nothing more elusive than a melon pip in a porcelain sink unless it is a melon pip on the kitchen floor. The pursuit of a melon seed on waxed linoleum really should be classed among the major sports.

But, after all, the most desirable place of all for the enjoyment of watermelon is the bottom step of the back porch. Here in the open air one may attack the luscious pink half-moon openly and let the seeds fly where they list.

You can tell when the people are fed up on something. The politicians begin to denounce it.

A careful analysis of Soviet Russia's new Constitution reveals that the Constitution is what Stalin says it is.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PRAYERS FOR CHILDREN

Spontaneous prayers by children, like spontaneous prayers by adults, are no doubt the best: they come from the heart. Not all parents are able to evoke such prayers from the little child. Many write me for good prayers for their children to memorize. Here are a few I would suggest, and I think they do not conflict with any particular religious teaching. Like nursery rhymes, such prayers are anonymous. They have accumulated over many, many years.

Dear God, before I shut my eyes up tight.

I want to say to you, "Good night". And thank you for this happy day. So full of laughter, joy and play.

For father and my mother dear, I thank you most. I know you'll hear.

This little prayer. And especially I like to have you make me good.

Lord, I thank you for this day, For my work and for my play; Keep me sleeping good and tight, And help to make tomorrow bright.

Thank you for the world so sweet; Thank you for the food we eat; Thank you for the birds that sing; Thank you, God, for everything. All this day thy love has led me, And I thank thee for thy care; Thou hast fed me, clothed me, warmed me.

Listen to my evening prayer!

For this new morning with its light, For rest and shelter of the night. For health and food, for home and friends.

For everything thy goodness sends, We thank thee, Heavenly Father.

For flowers that bloom about our feet,

For tender grass so fresh and sweet,

For song of bird and hum of bee,

For all things fair we hear or see.

Father, we thank thee.

—Emerson.

Father we thank thee for the night, For the pleasant morning light, For rest and food and loving care, And all that makes the day so fair.

Help us to do the things we should, To be to others kind and good. In all our work, and in our play, To grow more lovely every day.

Provided you are always sympathetic with the child, and win his co-operation, saying his prayers will be a happy experience. But if on any evening he should choose not to pray, I hope you will not try to force him to do so. Merely look forward to the next evening and set the stage so he will be sure to co-operate. And, of course, you would not think of letting a guest join in this ceremony, unless that guest would do so with deep reverence.

There may be one-third of the people in this country ill clad, ill nourished and ill-housed, but there are many of them who would not be so if they would work at least in the daytime.

The more you know about your job, if it's a real job, the more you will respect it.

EPWORTH M. E. TO DIRECT PARK SERVICE

Epworth Pastor To Give Sermon At Park Sunday

Epworth Minister Will Be Heard Sunday Evening
At Union Services

MRS. ANNA M. PYLE
WILL LEAD MUSIC

Rev. Harold A. McCurdy, pastor of the Epworth Methodist Episcopal church, will be in charge of the union services at Cascade Park Sunday evening.

Rev. McCurdy has chosen for his subject, "Toward Better Understanding" and his text is from Ezekiel 3:15—"And I sat where they sat." Rev. McCurdy is one of the newer members of the New Castle Ministerial Association and this is his first appearance at the Park services. For those who have not already had the privilege of hearing this minister this service of Sunday evening will be an excellent opportunity; those who have heard him know the treat in store for everyone.

The musical part of the program is in charge of Mrs. Anna Moore Pyle, organist and director of the Epworth choir. She has chosen for the special numbers one by the mixed chorus, "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains," and one by the ladies' chorus, "Hark, Hark My Soul." There will also be congregational singing led by the choir.

At 6:45 p.m. the brass quartet will present a quarter-hour program preceding the opening of the service at 7.

Ushering will be in charge of the Epworth ushers. The hymn book will be the one used by the National Preaching Mission.

This service will be at the bandstand unless it is raining; otherwise in the pavilion.

Ellwood City Dedicates Fine New City Building

NEW CITY BUILDING AT ELLWOOD

ELLWOOD CITY, July 10.—With marked pomp and ceremony Ellwood City proudly dedicated its new municipal building Friday evening in the presence of over 500 people, including many district notables. Some threatening weather failed to materialize, and the evening's program went off without a hitch.

The beautiful front of the building off Lawrence avenue was advantageously lighted, to give an imposing background for the program before it. Burgess Russell T. Sitter presided as chairman of the evening. The program opened with the playing of "America" by the high school band and followed with the invocation by the Rev. B. G. Osterhouse.

Burgess Presides

Then Burgess Sitter introduced Judge James A. Chambers of New Castle, who congratulated the people of Ellwood City and its officials for this achievement. The burgess then introduced the distinguished guests present. Among them were County Commissioner Floyd Cotton, Sheriff Edw. D. Pritchard, District Attorney Moni L. Ailey, Prothonotary John A. Edgar, County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland, County Coroner Orville Potter, Controller of the City of New Castle, Earl R. Wimer, Mayor Thompson, Mr. Beard and Mr. Dambach of Butler, Mayor Muster of Beaver Falls, the Hon. R. A. Nagel, Beaver County assemblyman, Mr. Preston of New Castle and W. J. Statti, chief resident engineer and inspector. The latter thanked the city officials and the people for the cooperation and hospitality shown him during the construction of the building. While its construction was a deep pleasure to him, it will be more so now to the people of Ellwood City.

Introduces Officials

Burgess Sitter then introduced the local officials among whom were the Council, President A. J. Howell, William McGlinn, J. P. Maneice, A. D. Henderson, H. E. "Frank" Blordi, Clyde S. Hill, Harry Caplan, P. N. Harlan, Paxton R. Pike, Ernest J. Reinheimer, Borough Manager Lowell W. Monroe, Secretary E. B. Moyer, Solicitor J. W. Hounphrey, Architect B. J. McCandless, former president of Council Alex Main, Postmaster Thomas A. Wilson and former Burgess D. A. Evans.

Secretary Denny Schill of the Chamber of Commerce was called upon for a few words and extended congratulations to the city officials and the people in behalf of the board of directors of the chamber.

"With this improvement there should be no difficulty in selling Ellwood," he stated. He declared that there was plenty of room to construct the new court house on top of the new building.

Burgess Sitter told of the trials and tribulations in the construction of the building, and upon its completion even those opposed to it expressed their satisfaction. He complimented the foresight of the people of Ellwood City. This is another beautiful landmark to the already fine schools, churches, hospital, parks and industries here.

Judge Braham Speaks

The principal speaker of the occasion was Judge W. Walter Braham of New Castle. "This, he stated, "could be expected from the people of Ellwood City, who are noted for their civic pride, ambition, and energy." He marveled at the remarkable and speedy development of Ellwood City from its founding to the present date. The new municipal building with its each brick, personifies the heterogeneous population of Ellwood City, who united, just like the bricks in the building, to make a glorious unit. "From the many accomplishments here, ambition and initiative is expected from Ellwood City," declared Judge Braham.

"The dedication of your building is similar to the completion of your home. In the latter you show allegiance to your family, and now you have shown your allegiance to your government." The speaker expressed deep satisfaction in the architecture of the building. He observed that materials from the far corners of the earth went into its construction.

It has been built well and beautifully yet in the modern American style. The skill and trades of many lands have been placed into practical use by Architect B. J. McCandless. The building is an edifice of confidence and loyalty to your country. It was started at the height of the depression, which is a tribute to the city officials and their people, who had this foresight. They provided jobs while at the same time obtaining something that has been of long need here. This is spending wisely and well.

In closing Judge Braham said that the building was a symbol of confidence in the future of Ellwood City. It stands as the flag—stability, loyalty and devotion. The program then closed with the pronouncement of the benediction by the Rev. Fr. James A. Byrne. The public was then invited to inspect the new building with guides.

Preceding the program here the distinguished guests and out-of-town visitors were guests of local officials at a 6:30 o'clock dinner at the Ellwood City Country Club. Covers were laid for 60. Lawrence, Beaver, and Butler counties were represented. The entire impressive affair is a feather in the hat of General Chairman William McGlinn.

Make Progress On Post Office Task In Seventh Ward

Remodeling Job On Ward Post Office Will Be Completed Within Week

Beautiful Golden Oak is the wood which was used in construction of the new equipment for the remodeling task at the Seventh Ward Post Office building.

Workmen, Friday completed the task of installing the front portion of the office, and stamp, mail order, and letter drop windows. All new equipment is being added to the mailing room and to the lobby.

Within a few days a bright coat of paint will be applied to the walls to put a finishing touch to the remodeled structure. When completed ward residents will have a very beautiful building for their use as a post office.

According to E. M. McBride, the work at the office will be completed within a week, and business will again go on unhampered by workmen about the building. Postal business at the office has not been stopped during the alterations but it has been somewhat hampered with the moving of equipment and the rebuilding of the floor.

Rev. Schnебly To Speak To Campers

Sunday afternoon, 3:30 o'clock, Rev. D. C. Schnebly, pastor of the Mahonington Presbyterian church will speak before the boys located at Camp Fred L. Rents.

The topic of Rev. Schnebly's sermon will be, "The Story of an Arrowhead." According to Schnebly this will be a story-sermon and should be interesting to the campers.

MAHONING METHODIST
The theme, "Stunted Growth" will be used as a sermon topic by Rev. C. H. Hagadorn, at his morning service in the Mahoning Methodist church, Sunday morning. A special children's theme will also be given by Rev. Hagadorn entitled, "Bearers of Light."

Uptown Swelters As Rain Brings Relief To Ward

Heavy Rain In Ward For Short While Friday Brings Relief From Heat

A portion of the heavy rain which fell in the Pittsburgh district Friday afternoon, fell in the Seventh Ward, for several minutes, to bring relief to all the folk who were sweating from the intense heat.

For approximately seven minutes between 2:30 and 3 o'clock Friday afternoon a heavy rain covered the district, cooling the streets, and the fevered brows of the ward citizens. Upon returning to his office up-town, your ward reporter was informed that no much-looked-for rain had fallen in that sector.

Union Services At Christian Church Sunday Evening

Rev. D. C. Schnebly Will Have Charge Of Union Meeting Of Ward Churches

All of the churches in the Seventh Ward will hold a union service for their congregations Sunday evening in the Madison avenue Christian church, beginning at 7:45 o'clock.

Services in all of the ward churches have been cancelled for the summer months and union services will be held. Rev. D. C. Schnebly will deliver the message this week and it will be entitled "The Sovereignty of God." Rev. Schnebly will be assisted by Rev. C. H. Hagadorn, pastor of the Mahoning Methodist church.

Report of their journey stated that their only difficulty was the intense heat which forced them to stop for rest and shade every once in a while.

Later the hostess provided a very appetizing and abundant lunch for the children.

Playing a fast game Thursday evening at the P. & O. field, members of the Mahoning M. E. softball team, defeated the Italian M. E. team with a score of 13-15.

A large audience was on hand to witness the game, and a very close game was the feature.

The Mahoning team will play the Gibson Loafers at the P. & O. field, Tuesday evening, July 13.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Only Sunday school at 9:40 o'clock Sunday morning followed by communion service will be held at the Madison avenue Christian church this week.

Morning worship services have been called off due to the fact that the preacher, Rev. Milton Shearer is now out-of-town on a vacation. Evening service will be the union services of the ward churches.

PRESBYTERIAN SERVICE

Morning services at the Mahonington Presbyterian church will begin at 9:45 o'clock, with Rev. D. C. Schnebly delivering a sermon on the topic, "The Power of Non-Violence."

In place of the regular evening service, the congregation will attend the union services at the Madison avenue Christian church.

ENJOY BOAT RIDE

Two residents of the ward, John Davis, Cedar street, and Clarence Snyder, 111 East Clayton street, returned to their respective homes in the ward, Thursday night, following a boat ride up the river from Parkersburg, West Virginia.

The couple left last Monday evening and rode to New Brighton by automobile. At New Brighton both are members of the New Brighton Boat club, and they secured a boat with an out-board motor and started on their river journey. According to Davis, the trip required 14 days for each direction.

Report of their journey stated that their only difficulty was the intense heat which forced them to stop for rest and shade every once in a while.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Mrs. J. B. Kerr, Bessemer, was a recent visitor with relatives in the ward.

Mrs. Mae Earl, North Cedar street, is confined to her home because of illness.

Milk Drivers Go On Strike

Ninety Thousand Customers Of Four Big Detroit Dairies Without Milk

(International News Service)

DETROIT, July 10.—Ninety thousand customers of four large dairies here went without milk today when CIO milk drivers suddenly went on strike.

The strike followed collapse of negotiations over a CIO union demand for a closed shop. Arrangements were made by the strikers to deliver milk to hospitals and homes with small children.

More than 300 drivers walked out, and the strike threatened to spread to 15 other large dairies.

It was the second major strike in Detroit in the last two days.

Owners of 70 cleaning and dyeing plants which were closed by a city-wide strike of 1,800 CIO workers Friday threatened today to "reopen all plants on an open shop basis as soon as possible." The strike also affected 10,000 workers in 2,500 small tailoring shops.

Meanwhile, Detroiters, sweltering in a heat wave, found that they could not have their white summer suits or dresses cleaned and pressed.

It was stated that he had suffered a slight stroke late in the winter, and had been depressed since then because he was unable to work as he formerly had. He had seemed to be in better than normal spirits yesterday and was sitting on the porch reading the paper while Mrs. Anderson, and a friend, Miss Hannah Walker, who was visiting them, had gone to the berry patch in the rear of the house to pick some berries. On their return, they missed him and a search revealed the body in the garage.

Mr. Anderson was born August 14, 1866, at Cross Creek, Pa. In addition to his wife, he leaves twin sons, W. H. Anderson, of Beaver Falls, and L. L. Anderson, of Pittsburgh, two sisters and two brothers.

The body has been removed to the home of the son, W. H. Anderson, 608 Sixth avenue, Patterson Heights, Beaver Falls, where services will be conducted Monday at 2 p.m. eastern standard time. Interment will be made in Grove Cemetery.

Mr. Anderson was a member of the First Baptist church of New Castle, and the Robertson Lodge I. O. O. F., of New Brighton.

UNION BAPTIST

Rev. Norman and his Church of God in Christ congregation will be at the Union Baptist church Sunday at 3 p.m. and Rev. Norman will be the guest speaker. A short program will be given under the sponsorship of Mrs. J. W. Griffin and her junior choir.

Monday afternoon prayer band will meet July 12, at the home of Mrs. Catherine Perris, South Front street.

UNITED HOLY CHURCH

Says Attempt Being Made To Pack Court By "Slow Motion" Now

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The administration's new judicial reorganization bill was condemned in the senate Friday afternoon by Senator Wheeler (D) Montana, as an attempt to "pack" the supreme court by slow motion.

In opening the opposition's attack on the measure, now substituted for President Roosevelt's original supreme court bill, Wheeler charged the administration with seeking to jam it down the throat of congress by propaganda and political pressure. He challenged supporters of the bill to take their fight to the people of the country through a constitutional amendment.

Denounces Administration's Tactics

Wheeler savagely denounced the administration for "intolerance" in its handling of the bill. Just as he began speaking he enforced his threat to block consideration of all other legislation by objecting to introduction of a new AAA bill by Senator Pope (D) Idaho. The single objection halted introduction of the bill.

Earlier, administration leaders removed a "joker" from the substitute bill, which authorizes appointment of one new justice to the supreme court each year for every justice remaining on the bench after the age of 75 years. The "joker" was the word "may" which would have given the president discretionary power to name or not name a new justice for each aged justice.

Claims Oversight

Senator Hatch (D) New Mexico, a co-author of the substitute, announced he would present an amendment, striking out the word "may" and substituting the word "shall." This would make the provision mandatory and take the discretionary power from the president.

The "joker" was condemned by opposition leaders in previous debate. Hatch called it an "oversight" and said authors of the substitute had not intended to vest any discretionary power in the president.

Wheeler first announced he had never "seen such appeals to the prejudices" as were being made in behalf of the court bill. He said Postmaster General Farley, WPA Administrator Hopkins, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and other administration officials had used all the powers of their office to whip up sentiment for the president's original bill.

Assails Farley

"We all heard Farley say 'It's in the bag. We'll let the senate talk a little while, then we'll let the house talk and then we'll call the roll and we've got the votes,'" said Wheeler.

"Certainly our constituents must be very grateful to Mr. Farley for letting their elected representatives speak their minds here in the senate."

"So this spirit of intolerance has pervaded this issue down to this moment. We found the same spirit of intolerance here yesterday, with the debate only a few days old. There was no question of a filibuster because the proponents had held the floor almost continuously with those on our side merely asking questions. Are they intolerant now because they are afraid to debate this issue?

"If it's in the bag, why desert the original bill. They deserted the original bill because the prophet of the Democratic party was wrong. He didn't have the votes and they don't want to debate that bill because they can't defend it."

Wheeler conceded there were about 60 votes for the original bill before the senate hearings started. Revelations at the hearings, he added, won over senator after senator to a majority opposed the original bill.

W. P. A. Playground To Have Exhibitions

Parents And Friends Of Children At Playgrounds Have Chance To See Accomplishments

Wednesday, July 14, has been chosen by the recreation division of the Works Progress Administration for an exhibition of handicraft that has been finished by the children on the various playgrounds of the city during the past few weeks.

Miss Janice Wrathall has been instructing the recreation leaders and N. Y. A. girls in handicraft over a period of six weeks, and in turn these leaders have instructed the children. Many useful as well as artistic articles have been completed by the students and all parents and friends have been issued invitations to come on that date between the hours of 2 and 4 p. m. to view the work.

The various playgrounds about the city and county who will participate in the exhibits are: Arthur McGill, Rose Bowl, West Side, Moravia street, Dean park, St. Philip and St. James, Castlewood, Margaret Henry Home and the Crawford-Oakridge Home. At each playground the visitors will be greeted by the recreation leaders, N. Y. A. girls and the children, who will proudly escort them about the grounds and display their handwork.

Advice to girls: The easy way to escape the advances of strange men at a liquor party is to stay at home.

Disposition of three estates is provided in wills which have been filed for probate in the office of Register and Recorder William R. Hanna. The will of Andrew Kohret late of Shenango township leaves his estate to two daughter, Fanny Weinert and Lena Bradley. The will of George B. Mershimer late of New Castle leaves his estate to a daughter, Mabel Stevenson. The will of Waters Hartman Whittaker, late of Ellwood City leaves his estate to his widow Margaret Vance Whittaker.

Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar is pleased with one act passed by the recent session of the general assembly. Under the election code the returns of all elections now go to the election board instead of the clerk of courts.

Twice a year, in past years the office of the clerk of courts has had a big job piled onto it by election returns. The returns had to be certified and usually it meant several days work.

Now the job goes to the election board which is the county commissioners. The morning after election will be just another morning in the clerk of courts' office but it will be a minor headache for the commissioners.

Discharged: Elizabeth De Genova, West Pittsburgh; Robert Allen, Leisure avenue; Margaret Carbone, Edensburg; Lulu Lucco, Kensington, Ky.; Mrs. Mary Latt, Volant; Ernest Snyder, Winter avenue; Joseph Graham, Walnut street; Edward Rogan, North street; Mrs. Mary Gered and infant son, Adams street.

Some of the Ellwood City registrars are wondering if they get overtime for their work on Tuesday, July 6. One registrar came into the office of the registration commission on Friday and said she had worked twenty hours. The crowd was so large that she did not get out for lunch.

The recent act of the general assembly abolishing the poor boards of the state will be tested for its constitutionality according to County Solicitor William McElwee, Jr.

The State Association of Poor Directors will file a suit very shortly in an effort to have the law declared unconstitutional. Mr. McElwee is a member of the association and he and four other attorney members have been named to file the suit and prosecute it.

The probabilities are that it will first go to a lower court for a decision and then be thrown into the state supreme court for final adjudication.

After several months of waiting the fishing license buttons have arrived in the office of County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland. They are being mailed out to fishermen who have receipts and no license button must procure their button before that date.

The deadline for fishing on a receipt is July 15 the fish commission and all fishermen who have receipts and no license button must procure their button before that date.

Allow More Time To Apply For Jobs Under New State Division

The final day for filing applications for civil service positions with the Division of Unemployed Compensation and Employment Service has been extended to July 20, Robert L. Myers, chairman of the Unemployment Compensation board of review announced in Harrisburg today. The original date for applications was July 10.

In making the announcement, Mr. Myers emphasized the requirement that applicants must request blanks from the board, specifying particularly the position for which each application is to be made, by title and position number.

The News, By Mail, One Year, $5.00

County Registration Is Still Under 7,000

With only four precincts missing all small, the total rural registration for Lawrence county today shows 6853 persons registered on the Republican, Democratic and No Party tickets, to date. This total includes all of the first day registration, June 8, approximately 200 registered in the office of the registration commission and 4520 registered on the second registration day, July 6.

The totals are discouragingly low. In spite of wide spread newspaper publicity, in spite of the efforts of candidates, in spite of the efforts of Democratic leaders, the totals today show that for every voter registered in the districts outside of Ellwood City in the county districts registered.

As the matter stands today there are approximately 23,969 voters registered in New Castle and Ellwood City and approximately 4800 registered in the agricultural districts. With such an overwhelming proportion of votes in New Castle and Ellwood City the farm vote could just as well stay at home on primary day for all the good it could accomplish.

Alarmed at the low totals the county commissioners acting as a board of registration today added a day for registration to the three they originally set. The last day was originally set for August 10. To this has been added August 11.

The registration on July 6 shows 271 registered as Republicans, 1724 as Democrats and 25 as No Party. The totals by parties are:

Knockers—Charles H. Young, chairman; Ross R. Rosenberger, Norman A. Lawrence, W. Fulton Jackson.

Yankees Show Batting Power, Pirates Win

Yanks Down Senators 16 To 2, Pirates Take 13 To 1 Win From Cubs

DiMAGGIO HITS
TWO MORE HOMERS

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports
Editor

NEW YORK, July 9.—If the Yanks continue to crush all opposition as they have been doing lately, we may have a renewal of the old plan first heard ten years ago for a breaking up of the team.

Such a plea probably would bring the same response today from Col. Jake Ruppert, owner of the Yanks, as it did then when he said: "If the others want to beat my Yanks, let them go out and get the club to do it."

The Yanks simply have too much power and pitching for the rest of the league. They gave a sample of it yesterday when they powered the Senators, 16 to 2.

Di Maggio Hits Two

There ought to be a law or something to restrain Joe Di Maggio and Lou Gehrig. Lou blew himself to his 14th homer and another pair of hits. But this was mild compared with the havoc caused by Di Maggio, who hit his 21st and 22nd homers, besides a single, double and triple, drove in seven runs and scored four himself.

The White Sox and Tigers also enjoyed field days with the stick, the former hammering the Browns for 18 hits and an 11-7 verdict while the latter got 14 hits and a 10-8 decision over the Indians.

The Red Sox took an weird 12-inning affair from the Athletics, 12 to 11. The Sox scored four in the ninth to tie, then each scored three in the tenth. The Sox made 17 hits and the A's 19.

The cannoneering was rather heavy also in the National league where the Dodgers handed the Giants the worst trimming they have had this year. The Dodgers pounded Schumacher, Gumbert and Baker for 20 hits and won easily, 15 to 2. Hamlin held the Giants to five hits and to add to their woes, the Giants made just as many errors as did hits.

Pirates Trim Cubs

The Bees made it 11 victories out of their last 13 games, when big Jim Turner pitched a five-hitter, 5-0 shut-out against the Phils.

The Cubs missed a grand opportunity to gain on the Giants by dropping one to the Pirates, 13-1. Bowman held the Cubs to seven hits while the Pirates made 19 off Carleton, Shoun and Bryant.

Joe Medwick's homer proved the winning margin in the Cards' 8-7 victory over the Reds who were helped along on homers by Lombardi, Myers and Davis.

RED SOX WIN FROM TIGERS, 4-2

Updegraff Relieves Louer And Saves Game In Seventh

Red Sox defeated the West Side Tigers, 6 to 4, in a Lawrence County Baseball League game played Friday at Lee Avenue. Updegraff relieved Louer and saved the game for the Red Sox when the bases filled in the seventh he lanned the third man. Morris pitched for the losers.

With the score tied, 2-2, in the second, Red Sox came through with two more runs in the fifth. Things looked bad for the Red Sox as the seventh until Updegraff's delivery settled the issue.

Morris and Adams poled triples and Grieves hit a double.

Great Finish And Card Of 71 Puts Cotton In Lead, Lacey Is Best U. S. Golfer

(International News Service)

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland, July 10.—Following their dismal failure in the Ryder cup matches, the triumph of British golfers, led by Henry Cotton, at the West Pittsburg field, Manager DeGenna has "Dutch" Hill ready to shoot at the Elks, and they will counter with Sammy Gray.

The Lawrence Indies and the South Side Board of Trade will play at the Rosena field. Manager Frutin will probably pitch Gunnert or Lammie and the Cedar Streets will have Balla or Cark in the box.

The Ryantown-Mahoning A. A. game at Ryantown has been cancelled by the Ryantown management.

NEW YORK, July 10.—The stock market slipped irregularly in quiet trading today. Losses were limited to two points and most recessions were only fractional.

Grains reacted further, both here and in Canada, and cotton lost 50 cents a bale. Bonds eased moderately but governments were relatively firm.

Steels, rails, coppers and motors were weak, with utilities, foods and a few specialties bucking the trend. Chrysler was off more than point and General Motors dipped fractionally. U. S. Steel lost nearly a point, closely followed by Bethlehem and Republic. Union Pacific dropped two and Southern Pacific half as much.

Fair-sized gains were netted by North American, American Water Works, Consolidated Edison and Columbia Gas & Electric.

Alumni Plans Twelfth
Reunion On August 4

COMMITTEES NAMED TO HANDLE DETAILS

To renew old acquaintances, those attending the Mahoningtown school before the fire, will hold their annual reunion on Wednesday, August 4. The scene will be the Mahoningtown school building and Cascade Park.

The program for that day will consist of a social time and business meeting at 2 p.m. in the school house. In the evening, dinner will be served at 6 p.m. in the grove of Cascade Park, climaxed by an evening of park diversions and entertainment.

The following committees will be in charge of the details regarding the annual get-together.

President, J. L. Thoman; vice president, W. W. McCaughey; treasurer, Ralph Wettich. Picnic and general arrangement committee: Mrs. Robert Magill, Bessie Coates Pitzer, Mrs. John Louer, Robert Sheehy, John Louer, Frank Barnes, James Bailey; executive, Mrs. Merle Adams, Mrs. Quincy Davy; and publicity, Bessie Coates Pitzer.

All of the officers and committee members will also act as reception committee at the reunion.

A meeting of the committees was held recently in the home of the chairman, Mrs. Robert Magill, of Highland avenue, and plans formulated for the 1937 reunion. This committee will hold another meeting at an early date at the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harvey Gwin, Rambler's Rest, along the Slippery Rock.

Invitations to the reunion will be placed in the mail during the early part of next week.

Retiring Janitors Guests Of Honor At Dinner Friday

School Janitors Of City Honor Three Associates At Dinner Friday Night

Janitors of public schools of this city, assembled Friday evening in the social rooms of Bethany Lutheran church to do honor to three of their associates, who are retiring from active service, including S. W. Manning, Geo. Smith and Thomas Preston.

At the appointed hour, a full course chicken dinner was served at long tables beautifully decorated for the occasion. Clusters of flowers artistically arranged, formed colorful centerpieces, and places marked for forty guests. Mrs. Chas. W. Thompson and her group of women from the church Missionary Society served.

Impromptu talks were heard afterwards. S. G. Ligo, superintendent of grounds and buildings, being first to speak. He paid tribute to the three guests of honor in behalf of those assembled, and others were also heard from. In conclusion Jack Morgan, Jr., grandson of Frew Book one of the group, contributed a trumpet solo and a vocal selection.

The evening was climaxed when Joseph Patterson presented the guests of honor, each with a hand-some lounge chair, all alike.

The committee responsible for the success of the occasion composed of L. C. Hogue, John Kenehan and William Kocher.

All of the officers and committee members will also act as reception committee at the reunion.

A meeting of the committees was held recently in the home of the chairman, Mrs. Robert Magill, of Highland avenue, and plans formulated for the 1937 reunion. This committee will hold another meeting at an early date at the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. J. Harvey Gwin, Rambler's Rest, along the Slippery Rock.

Invitations to the reunion will be placed in the mail during the early part of next week.

Registration For Girls' Day
Camp At Cascade Park Surpasses Expectations

Registration for Girl Scout Day Camp at Cascade Park has far surpassed expectations this year. There were 94 who had signed up when the registration closed yesterday.

Everything is in readiness for the opening Monday, when the girls will assemble at 9 a. m. just below the pond. Here the girls will be welcomed to camp by the director, Miss Eleanor Le Fevre and the staff introduced to the girls by their camp names.

Each girl has been requested to bring her own bathing suit and towel, cup, lunch, blanket or something to lie on during rest period, note book and pencil, and money for registration. Each girl pays a registration charge of ten cents on the first day, plus a daily charge of ten cents. This covers milk, swimming and all craft work.

Diary Proves Too Dangerous

Happy Days Of Yore Are Recalled By McIntyre Through Use Of Guest Book

RECALLS MANY HAPPY VISITS

By O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, July 10.—Diaries are generally dangerous. Even Pepys, who set down his most intimate thoughts in what he thought was his unsolvable shorthand, was a marrasching and post-humously deciphered. The next best bet for pleasantly recalling days gone is the guest book.

I have been riffling back through ours today. So many gone. So many who were O. O. McIntyre intimates now so remote they seem almost strangers. Some who were nobodies when registering now of world-wide fame. The first is Henry L. Doherty, whose address was "The Root", his bachelors quarters on Bridge street.

On the same page Bessie Shaw Stafford, sterling Atlanta newspaperwoman. And the Duncan sisters—Rosetta and Vivian—then in the flush of stage fame that dwindled. And skimming along: the H. T. Websters, the R. M. Brinkhoffs and Ray Rohr, in day we were practically inseparable.

Too, "Old Man Lew Cody to and from Nowhere". And the late Mabel Normand. Gypsy O'Brien, once of the stage, and whose handwriting is the most distinguished in the book. Such names, too, as Frank Godwin, W. R. Hearst, Jr., Rupert Hughes, Frances White, Jane Dixon, Allan Dwan, Rita Weiman and Jeanne Judson.

Also in succession Monta Bell, before his advent as a cinema director, Spencer Penrose of Colorado Springs, the Courtney Ryley Coopers, Ahmed Abdullah, Karl K. Kitchen, Bill Steineke, Meredith Nicholson, his sons, Meredith Jr. and Charles Lionel; Amon Carter, George Ade, Edna Ferber and Dean Townsend Netcher. Many, many more.

There is a signature record of a night when George Gershwin and Irving Caesar dropped in—long before either was famous—and Gershwin in a melancholy mood sat dreamily improvising, lost in his own melodies until dawn. In the guest book beside his name are several bars of his then best known tune, "Nobody But You".

Then: W. C. Hogg with the date 7, 17-22 which marked the beginning of the stanchest, most satisfying and loyal friendship I've known. I left him in Berlin, after a motor trip from Paris, through France, Belgium, Holland and Germany in 1930. Three days after I disembarked from the Europa came the stunning cable of his unexpected passing at Baden-Baden. So interwoven had become our lives that existence has never been the same for me since.

One page seems loaded with illustrations. From top to bottom in the following order: Peter B. Kyne, Bebe Daniels, Roy Howard, Natacha Rambova, Rudolph Valentino, Frederick Arnold Kummer, Alice Rohr, Ryley Wilson, "Hello! Gertrude Lawrence", Peggy Hoyt, Gene Markey, Irvin Cobb, Chic Sale, Earl Carroll, Adolphine Menjou and his mother.

A memorable night recalled by this entry: "John Ringling, June 22, 1935". The circus man dropped in after theater. Someone had just sent me a case of ale from Canada—his favorite beverage. It was a sweltering night of summer stillness and with a bucket of well iced bottles at his side, coat and tie removed, he began to remember when about circus days—stories of performers, animals, "Hey Rube" flurries, tales of grifters and gleaners in wake of the big tops. Never in the theater or movies have I been more fascinated. People were going to work when he went down the hall to the elevator.

There's a touch of the Sam Goldwyn Alva Johnston glorifies in "With Best Wishes from a Great Admirer—Samuel Goldwyn". And Wilson Mizner perpetuates a whimsy with "small booked for the hundredth time" — Wilson Mizner. "Small booked" is a police station term. Then Kin Hubbard and a grotesque limning of Abe Martin. Townsend Netcher. Many, many more.

A residential interlude at 22 avenue Henri Martin in Paris is festooned with such visitors as Gene and Polly Tunney, Lucille Cavanaugh, John and Margaret Kennedy, Ralph Barton, Michael Arlen, Lise and Bertha Bell, Arthur Moss, Paul Whiteman and Jimmy Gillespie, Mrs. Irvin Cobb, Mrs. Roy Howard, son Jack and daughter Jane, Mrs. Willis Wood Sinclair Lewis and—mirabile dictu!—a real Spanish princess, Marie de Bourbon, whom everybody was calling Magdalene before the party broke up.

AROUND CITY HALL

There is no question but that Mayor Charles E. McGrath intends to rid the city of as many speed demons as his police can catch. He made this plain when issuing orders to Police Chief Ralph A. Criswell yesterday. He stated that no speeder will be excused from paying a fine of $10.00. After receiving the orders, the police chief assigned several police in a cruiser car and Mounted Officer Sigler on the police motorcycle with instructions to arrest every autoist they saw speeding a car. According to the mayor a speeder does not respect the rights of others, is apt to kill some person and if they wish to step on the accelerator they will have to pay for the pressure.

Judging from the number of bathers who have been journeying to Billy Glenn's pool, the decision of the city to have Glenn open the pool as soon as possible, proved a good move. It is the largest pool in this section and has been one means of helping the heat bothered forget Old Sol.

These foreign guests were received with acclaim, as one would have expected. They liked it, and our scouts liked them.

In years to come, as they grow old and perhaps become influential folk in their respective countries, undoubtedly they will continue to have kindly recollections of one another.

By such acquaintanceships are future international misunderstandings likely to be averted.

SOME ABSENT

It is too bad that all important nationalities were not represented at the jamboree.

Unfortunately countries like Germany and Italy do not approve of Boy Scouts. The Boy Scouts are trained to be mutually helpful, not hostile to each other.

Hitleristic and Mussolini-esque youth is educated to destruction rather than conservation.

The fuhrer and the duce, according to their lights, can't afford to endorse the Boy Scout movement. They want their "kids" to be internationally quarrelsome, not internationally friendly—to like to fight, not to fraternize.

Consequently Germany and Italy were not represented at the Washington jamboree.

STRENGTHEN FAITH

At that, the contrast may have struck the scouts who DID attend.

They are only boys, but they may have noticed that the Nazi-istic and Fasci-istic and Communistic countries are the ones which boycotted the jamboree.

And that the democratic countries are the ones which sent scouts to Washington.

Being Boy Scouts, maybe this will strengthen their faith in democracy. I hope so. And, as they grow up, I think so.

Anyway, 25,000 of them were here—a pretty good nucleus.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Jamboree Held Good Will Event

Washington Columnist Praised Management Of Boy Scout Encampment

GERMANY AND ITALY NOT THERE

Central Press Washington Bureau 602 Times-Herald Bldg. By CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The Boy Scouts' recent jamboree in Washington seems to me to have been about as praiseworthy an affair as it is easy to imagine.

It was admirably managed, for one thing. No one was homesick. I talked with scores at least, of the visitors, and I did not encounter a single individual who did not testify that he was having the time of his life. There was no illness of any kind, to speak of. The lads were models of good behavior—a shining example to grown-ups. One might have supposed that, among so many, there would have been a few problem youngsters. Not a scout so manifested himself. The harmony of the whole thing was wonderful and the whole.

It is impossible to think that any boy who attended the jamboree can be blamed into anything but a corking good citizen.

TOLERANCE ABSORBED

But that is not the only item. Here were 25,000 "kids", at a formative age, jumbled together, from every city and crossroads or farmstead and from every walk in life, taught a lesson of all-around tolerance and mutual understanding.

Not exactly TAUGHT that lesson, either. Teaching rather implies that the lesson has to be ground in. The scouts absorb it naturally.

It is a dandy process of Americanization.

INTERNATIONAL ASPECTS

Nor is it purely a matter of Americanization.

It has its international aspect also.

There were scout delegations here from South America, Europe, Asia, Africa and Australasia, nearly everywhere on earth. The story already has been told of the two who tramped for months through trackless jungles to reach Washington from Venezuela.

These foreign guests were received with acclaim, as one would have expected. They liked it, and our scouts liked them.

In years to come, as they grow old and perhaps become influential folk in their respective countries, undoubtedly they will continue to have kindly recollections of one another.

By such acquaintanceships are future international misunderstandings likely to be averted.
